The rumoured acquisition of Carrere by WEA International is still on the cards, but awaits approval by the French government. Would Carrere become the new outlet in France for Atlantic once the deal is consummated?

PolyGram has appointed three new members to its board of management, Jerry Moss, Chris Blackwell and Alain Levy. This was announced at the company's first AGM last week.

* * Although Switzerland is not seen as Europe's most important market, newly released figures by the IFPI make it Europe's third best pro rata CD (album) market. Some 11 million CDs were sold last year, accounting for 47% of total soundcarrier units. Holland (61%) and Belgium (50%) are Europe's best CD markets.

Radio Luxembourg (UK) MD Maurice Vass denies waggish rumours that the station will programme regular signal 'fades' - so familiar to 208 MW listeners in Britain - into its new satellite service. Vass: "We trust the pristine sound quality will help attract a whole new audience. But maybe we'll stick in a fade or two on special occasions, just for old times sake!"

At least someone listened to Udo Lange's critical comments on radio's slow acceptance of new trends (see this page). Frankfurtbased public channel HR is launching a new 'Clubnight' weekly show featuring well-known West German club DJs/producers such as Sven 'Omen' Vaeth, Torsetn Fenslau, Dorian Gray, Heinz Felber, Lady D and Chilly T.

Former WEA UK marketing director Andy Murray has joined PMV as international director of repertoire and marketing following the recent departure of Jim Greenhaugh and Annie Kelly. It is understood Murray will be appointing a new head of marketing shortly. More departures from PMV are likely while the company undergoes restructuring.

CBS Europe Aims For New Revenue Options

Recent European investments by CBS Records in retailing, direct marketing and broadcasting are part of a strategy to expand the music market and explore new sources of revenue, according to CBS Records Europe president Jorgen Larsen.

"We are seeking to play a productive role to enlarge the market and to stimulate increased interest in recorded music," says Larsen, 'We are looking at the benefits and the difficulties?

In Scandinavia, CBS is financing the development of a record retail chain, Skiv Akademien. In Spain, it has a retail joint venture with major publisher and book store, Crisol. In France, CBS has a minority interest in FM stations Cherie and Metropolys, and is looking for further broadcasting

These developments, in part, reflect Larsen's overall optimism about the international recording industry, "In the long run," he says "there may be more direct-tohome delivery of music programming, an extension of the Personics idea, but this is still a long way off. It will not happen in my lifetime." Although he does see a danger in the proliferation of entertainment options, he considers overall music business prospects to be very encouraging.

Ownership Changes Likely To Broadcasting Bill

Home Office minister David | FM stations that will be on-air at Mellor is likely to make changes to radio ownership rules in the Broadcasting Bill, even though the Bill has now completed its committee stage in Parliament.

The Bill currently allows a company to hold a maximum of one national and six local licences. This would make it theoretically possible for one company to gain control of the six biggest local stations, which cover half the UK population.

The Independent Broadcasting Authority (IBA) is concerned that some medium-sized radio groups are already near the six-licence limit. And, when simulcasting ends and FM and AM services become separate licences under the new Radio Authority, several companies will exceed the limit. Midlands Radio, for example, currently operates seven services in five franchise areas.

The IBA, which last year imposed a limit of 15% of the total radio audience for companies holding minority shareholdings in radio stations, has published details of a points system with each AM and FM service getting a value according to its population coverage and waveband.

Under this system, the total points value of the 132 AM and regional grouping. As more licences were granted the individual ceiling would also rise in proportion. An IBA spokesperson says the points system "got a warm reception from the Home Office but they didn't want to accept it hook. line and sinker. We are not sure whether Mr Mellor's decision will be based on our proposals but we wouldn't be surprised if they were?

The Home Office insists that nothing has yet been decided. 'The Bill's clauses can be changed by secondary legislation by the end of this year so there is no need for a decision at this stage. There has been a good deal of sympathy for the IBA's 15% limit or its points system and this is something that we are considering?'

GDR Industry Problems Highlighted

Problems associated with copyright protection and home-taping in East Germany are two of the most important issues facing the West German music industry as moves for reunification gain pace, according to IFPI board member and BMG Ariola Munich MD Thomas Stein.

Speaking at the recent BPW press conference, Stein said home taping is a way of life in East Germany, and that the situation will not change "until East Germans adapt their consumer behaviour to a free market economy".

Stein said copyright protection, which is currently only 10 years after release, is cause for particular concern. And he added that the laws for the protection of rights, and the collection and distribution of performance and broadcasting fees, are hardly worth the paper they are written on. "Even the expectation of exercising these rights was politically unwelcome in the past."

He added: "If East German laws don't change, and if the exploitation of protected material is market.

not restricted, this will have serious repercussions for our market. It is, therefore, in the interests of everyone that the necessary stens are taken to fully protect both East and West German artists?"

Stein predicted that most West German record companies will include East Germany into their existing corporate structures as a fourth distribution region. They currently work on the basis of three regions: the north, middle and south of West Germany.

Meanwhile, he predicted a healthy future for vinyl records and cassettes, as only about 50,000 CD players have found their way onto the East German

Illegal Recordings Cost DM 75 M Ufa Applies For

The West German record industry | lost an estimated DM 75 million (app. US$ 44 million) in 1989 due to forged and illegal recordings, according to Manfred Zumkeller, chairman of the National Association of Phonographic Industries (BPW) and MD of WEA

Speaking at the annual press conference of the BPW and the West German IFPI group, Zumkeller called on European lawmakers to harmonise copyright protection regulations.

The call was echoed by Friedrich Wottawa, chairman of the IF-PI board and MD of EMI Music Operations, who said laws regarding home-taping must be tightened. He added that the harmonisation of European national copyright laws should include the extension of the protection period for phonographic recordings to 50 years (it is currently 25 years in West Germany) and the introduction of a levy for soundcarrier rental

by Volker Schnurrbusch

Ufa, the electronic media division of the Bertelsmann empire and a major shareholder in Radio Hamburg, is the first applicant for a private radio licence in East Germany, MD Manfred Kuehn says Ufa plans to form a joint venture with East German publishers and local businessmen for the project.

The new station, which will be called Ostsee Radio (Baltic Sea Radio), will service the northern state of Mecklenburg, which is expected to be recreated within a year. Although it has not yet been decided where the central station will be located. Kuehn says "there will be two regional studios, in Rostock and Schwerin, and prohably a third in Neubrandenburg"

Kuehn estimates that the station will require an annual budget of DM 13-14 million, calculated at West German prices, which should be partially off set by advertising revenue. Skyrock programme director there will be some programme Laurent Bounneau describes his station's results in the last round of Mediametrie statistics, as being 'not so good'. Skyrock's audience dropped by 0.9% to 4%, one of the biggest falls suffered by a major FM station.

"I am always disappointed to lose any of our audience," says Bounneau, "While all the stations are going down, Skyrock is going down that little bit more. But Mediametrie is using a new method so that could have made a difference." The Mediametrie results now cover a three month period, rather than two, and the number of interviews has gone up from 36,000 to 75,000.

However, Bounneau says Maxximum's debut in the results is particularly worrying. "A score of 0.6% for a first period is incredible, especially when you compare it with other well-established stations such as Fun. It is time for the FM radios to find a new way of competing and adapt their advertising campaigns accordingly. We will certainly be doing a lot of thinking over the next few

Michel Brillie, programme director at Maxximum, says the result is a 'positive starting point'. The station, which was launched five months ago, is part of Luxembourg based CLT, which recently sold a 15% stake to US broadcaster Emmis.

Brille: "Our musical target is unique, and, by putting together a specific format, dance, we have created a product that works. But the Mediametrie results have been calculated using a new method so we will have to wait for a while to judge the long-term effect. We are aiming to have 1% by the end of the year. If we can reach that sooner I will be delighted?"

A legal and political storm has | broken out over the Italian leg of The Rolling Stones European tour. Concert promoter David Zard, who claims to have a long lasting agreement to stage national concerts by the group, may be losing out to rival tour operator Fran Tomasi of Venice.

Zard: "We are suing The Stones through BPL (who hold the world rights to the tour) of Toronto. We have done all the advance work and five months of research," continues Zard. "Tomasi made a crazy offer and now they have asked me to match it."

Zard had The Rolling Stones scheduled for two dates in Rome plus two dates in Turin. Tomasi. however, while stressing he does not hold a contract for the tour, says "Zard has tried hard to interfere with my attempts at getting venues. But the promoter who has got the contract gets the venues."

Tomasi refutes all Zard's claims, saving he currently has an agreement to tour the group, has deposited a guarantee by letter of credit, and contracts should be signed early this month.

Meanwhile politicians are trying to stop the group entering the country at all. Italy's parliament is currently discussing introducing new legislation because of the country's increasing hard drugs problem. PREVIEWS

SINGLE OF THE WEEK

Hollow - RCA/BMG

to allow the music to breathe without sounding loose or disorganised. Definately one of the major new songwriting and

Veronique Riviere

Tout Court - Polydor Riviere has a great voice which she uses to good effect on this semi-acoustic pop song. Easygoing and radio-friendly.

Jean-Paul Wall

Tid For Mig - Sonet Sophisticated pop that successfully combines a jazz feel with thoroughly modern production values. Written by Swedish superstar Orup.

Gina Foster

Cry In Vain - de/Construction Foster turns in a superlative vocal performance on this selfpenned ballad. A truly Transatlantic soul sound with fine production, courtesy of ex-Paisley Park protegee Rick Neigher.

Seduction

Heartbeat - A&M

Sensual dance material from this US trio. The record profits from a soulful lead vocal. thoroughly up-to-date production and off-the-wall sampling.

Pontus & Amerikanerna Min Bror Och lag - Sonet

A cute, simple pop song with a pronounced 60s feel from this interesting new Swedish band. Summery and whimsical.

Ryuichi Sakamoto

You Do Me - Virgin A contagious dancefloor groove holds this uncharacteristically up-beat record together. Excellent lead vocals by Jill Jones.

Silicon Dream

I'm Your Doctor - BMG Ariola The same formula as The Power by Snap but lacking the clever production. Nevertheless a good dance record with an inspired female vocal.

Brian Kennedy

A haunting acoustic song. The second single from The Great War Of Words has Kennedy sounding like Joni Mitchell circa Court And Spark. The production, by Tim Friese Green (Talk Talk) manages to be open enough vocal talents of the 90s. Currently on tour with Suzanne Vega.

The Stranglers

Sweet Smell Of Success - Epic

An attractive mixture of ska and jazz based around a catchy bass riff. The Stranglers back in top

Scarlett

Gimme Gimme Gimme (lust A Little Bit) - EMI Typical Europop with clever and highly commercial production. A lolita type voice and a basic, but effective, result.

Midnight Oil

Forgotten Years - CBS More fast, compelling poprock from these worthy Australians. Excellent vocals, as always, and an addictive tune that needs a few plays to be fully appreciated.

Martyn Snapes Hard Luck Story - Regal Zonophone/EMI-

Real music played on real instruments with a convincing vocal delivery. Quality poprock that deserves attention.

Unique 3

Weight For The Bass - 10 Minimalist dance material with an interesting production and a powerful groove. Part of the current wave of instrumental house records.

ALBUM OF THE WEEK

Marianne Faithfull Blazing Away - Island

A compelling live recording with a representative cross-section of her previous material plus two new tracks. Apart from the title song, the LP was recorded at St.Anne's Cathedral in Brooklyn and produced by Hal Willner. There is no doubt that the resonance of this live recording is an asset to Faithfull's singularly dark world-view. Best: Sister Morphine, Why D'Ya Do It and Ballad Of Lucy Jordan. A record that needs several listenings before appealing.

Doro

Doro - Phonogram

The follow-up to last year's Force Majeure sees Dorothee Pesch (Doro), who is also leadsinger with Warlock, proving that she is up there with the best of the West German hard rock scene. Accompanied by an excellent band, the LP has enough good songs and variety of style to be well worth a listen. Try I Had Too Much To Dream.

The Winans

Return - Owest

A smooth and sophisticated LP by these four brothers, firmly rooted in their gospel background. Although much of the material is funk-based, It's Time is a more contemporary semi-rap and Don't Leave Me is good dance music. Free and Together We Stand are also worth checking out.

Stevie Salas

Stevie Salas Colorcode - Island

A debut LP from a seasoned session player who has worked with George Clinton, Bootsy Collins, Rod Stewart and Was (Not Was) and produced the latter. With Colorcode he tends towards wildly energetic and expressive rock with a dash of soul, funk and blues thrown in. Co-produced by Salas and Bill Laswell. Best cuts include Stand Up. Blind and Over And Over Again.

Hunters & Collectors

Ghost Nation - Atlantic

Gentle, melodic guitar pop from this Australian seven-piece. Along with the traditional rock line-up they make good use of horns to colour the sound. The songs are expertly crafted and the arrangements are anthemlike and pleasantly unpredictable. Try Love All Over Again, Ghost Nation and Blind Eye.

That Petrol Emotion

Chemicrazy - Virgin

On their third album this US/Irish band maintain an aggressive feel but with a greater emphasis on melodies than previously. The band have now found the perfect balance between wild guitar rock and Beatlesque pop. Producer Scott Litt (REM) has managed to keep an edgy sound while adding a degree of sophistication which should make the band attractive to a much wider au#### dience. A fine album. Niagara

Religion - Polydon

French language R&B with sampled brass and lazy chansons with off-the-wall string arrangements are what this duo do best. Like that other talented and somewhat eccentric French combo, Les Rita Mitsouko, they manage to use a wide variety of styles without it becoming a pastiche. The emphasis here is on solid rock based funk, spiced-up with brass and some raunchy guitar. Highlights include Le Ciel S'Est Dechire, Au-Dela De La Riviere and L'Ame Des Vandales.

Joakim Wallstrom/tel:46.910.38507/fax:46.910.78372 This is music from the far north of Sweden. The band sound a bit like Aztec Camera, semi-acoustic pop rock with a fine lead vocal and, overall, a very well put together number. A strong melody and a very convincing delivery. tel:34.1.2758501/fax:5774367 This really is very different. The group seem to have taken the idea of world music quite literally and tried to include a bit of everything. Sometimes it works and, well, sometimes it does not. Exciting, original and entertaining, Forrest shot to fame in 1983 with his cover of The Hues Corporation's Rock The Boat. This is easygoing dance material that features a very solid vocal performance and a truly uplifting chorus. Lots of summer hit potential. Licence and sub-publishing free except Benelux.

Soho

Hippychick (S&M/UK). Contact:Savage/ Sheyla Aslan/tel:44.1.4901210/fax:2503186

Based around the excellent guitar riff from The Smiths' single How Soon Is Now, this dance number is the best thing that this four-piece group have released so far. They have always seemed on the verge of a breakthrough and now it could come soon. Licence and subpublishing free except UK and France.

I'm Leaving (Energy/Italy). Contact:Energy/Alvaro Ugolini/ tel:39.6.384886/fax:381058/tix:624818 Straightforward 70s disco that draws heavily on Chic, With Joy's powerful voice and a wellconstructed melodic song, I'm Leaving is one of the better dance records to be released lately. Incantation (CMP/West Germany). Contact: CMP/Helga Ebert/tel:49.2422.8053/fax:8054 It is never easy to represent the true value of quality jazz in a few short words. #### King Bee

Feel The Flow (Go Bang/Holland). Contact:Boudisque/Fred Berkhout/ tel:31.20.260311/fax:276310

From the double A-sided 12' single, also featuring Back By Dope Demand, this seems to be picking up plenty of dance floor action. The number features samples from Yellow Magic Orchestra and Kraftwerk plus a great rap. Licence and sub-publishing free except UK, GAS and the Benelux.

Records mentioned on this page are by promising acts which have potential for breaking into the pan-European market. The selection is done by the editorial team of Music & Media. Radio & TV programmers wonting to play the material mentioned here should be aware that not all records are necessarily released in every territory. International A&R managers and music publishers on the look out for new deals should contact the original master/publishing owners. Country of origin and contact numbers are listed as known. Those wishing to submit material to this section should send their records, biographies and photos to Music & Media, Gary Smith, PO Box 9027, 1006 AA Amsterdam, Holland.

The New Baccara (Talent Tracks cassette no.44) re-make of Yes Sir. I Can Boogie is being snapped up. The record has been licenced to Dureco in Benelux, Vynilmania in Scandinavia, Mastertrax in Spain and Tei Chiko in Japan. When we first received the record it came from the Brian Levert promotion company and consequently all enquiries were directed there. However, Pierre Laurin from 2 Summers Records phoned to say that he would like anyone still interested in the song to contact him. The phone number is in London, tel:01.5148028/fax:5145578. He also pointed out that the figure we were quoting for export orders was, in fact, 25.000, not 150.000.

D-Shake's Yaqaqaqaqah (cassette no.43) is currently racing up the Record Mirror Dance Chart. Last week it jumped from 41 to 10. Another strong dance track from Go Bang, the double A-sided Feel The Flow/Back By Dope Demand by King Bee, has just jumped from 23 to 8 in the Dutch Dance Charts.

Never let it be said this column is not wellup on what is happening. A record, about to be signed to a major label in the UK but still available for some territories, is a dance version of Sinead O'Connor's Nothing Compares 2 U (Beaver Records). Reviews so far have been ecstatic, not surprising really as it is extremely well done and will be a big hit. The record was put together by BHF, the same production team behind Moments In Soul by JT & The Big Family.

Adrian Belew, guitarist with Talking Heads, David Bowle and Frank Zappa, is apporently o fan of Dutch percussion group Van Kampen (either that or the group recognised him and jumped him from behind). From I.to r: Willem van Kruysdijk; Belew; and Mies Wilbrink released the appropriately named 'Charmed Life', his first LP of new material for nearly four years. It was initially due out in March, but the release was delayed when Idol was seriously iniured in a motorbike accident in February. which has also limited his ability to be actively involved in Chrysalis' marketing campaign.

Billy Idol - Business As Usual

S haron Chevin PR is co-ordi-nating the radically altered promotion plans, Chevin: "For Europe we had planned a threeweek promotional tour, plus a UK press conference for the launch. Obviously, because he can't move, we've done everything possible to compensate. We've now arranged a press conference by satellite and have invited 55 journalists from all over the world to the UK?"

Chevin adds: "We took a group of journalists to LA for interviews. We've also done an interview for 'Rapido' and a couple of other European shows, and BBC Radio 1 DJ Johnnie Walker came and did a 40 minute one-to-one interview. This will be serviced to all our affiliates, who will get one of their territory's DJs to dub in their own questions. That will be going out extensively on TV and radio?

West German weekly videoclin show 'Formal Eins' has expressed an interest in screening at least a Schneider, international promopart of the interview, along with the video. Albert Slendebroek. MD of Chrysalis Germany, says: "We will also offer it to Sat Fins. which has a new music show, and RTL-Ragazzi. As for radio, there are no specifically targetted DJs or shows. We we will just get as many stations as possible to broadcast the interview."

There are those who ask how long 34 year-old Idol can carry on playing the adolescent rebel. President of Chrysalis International, Paul Conroy: "In the planning stages preceding an album release, we always talk about image and the possibility of changing but I don't think he will in the forseeable future.

"He was part of Generation X

Billy Idol has just | (one of the first and most popular punk groups) and that, quite apart from his track record since then, gives him a lot of credibility. I accept there's a danger of his becoming a Max Bygraves (UK variety show star) sort of figure but he knows what

> "His move into acting is going well. He played Cousin Kevin in the stage version of The Who's 'Tommy' and he has a part in the film Oliver Stone is shooting about Jim Morrison," Originally due to play Morrison's best friend, after the accident Stone gave Idol a new part, that of a film director shooting a documentary about The Doors.

Andrew, Son Of Albert

Four years after Wham! split up, Andrew Ridgeley is now making his bid for solo success with the release of his debut album 'Son Of Albert'. While his former partner has gone on to even greater things, Ridgeley is, in a sense, starting at the bottom again.

espite having been one half of a highly successful duo, Ridgeley is widely perceived as a tuneless wonder who was lucky to have a talented friend called George Michael. Yet Maurice tion manager at Epic UK, is not | were pleasantly surprised?" worried: "I don't believe there is an image crisis.

"Epic France sent out prerelease cassettes without any identification, just a note saying this was a new artist, and the reaction was very positive. Although people were surprised when they were told who it was, they couldn't turn round and say, well actually I was lying, I don't like it after all.

"The company staff have all found him to be a co-operative. hard working professional and, although some members of the press can't resist the temptation of a hatchet job, most have said they Ridgeley's partner and general overseer for the UK and Europe is Jon Fowler. Fowler works exclusively with him and favours the job description of personal coordinator. Since the beginning of this year, the official management function has been performed by the Los Angeles-based company Lippman Kahane Entertainment, which also looks after George Michael.

Fowler: "I started working with Andrew because he was out of the country a lot, so I handled the liaison with the lawvers and accountants. Now I look after Andrew east of Cornwall and Lippman Kahane do the work in

A great believer in a 'hands-off management style, Fowler is happy to let Ridgeley and Epic take care of the music: "Andrew is totally autonomous on the music side of things and he also has the final word on day-to-day management."

Indeed, Ridgeley could not be accused of taking it easy. He is now doing promotion work in Europe, which will be followed by a trip to the US and Canada. He will then go to Australia and Japan. Tour plans have vet to be arranged and, according to Schneider, depend on album sales: "At the moment there would be no demand for tickets. But if it does sell well, there will be a tour?'

y friends at Bayerischer Rundfunk say they've had a positive audience response' to their anti-drug week with loads of people ringing the station's information phone lines. They also broadcast interviews with artists such as David Crosby, warning of the dangers of drug abuse. Mind you, David is well past the dangerous age. Contemporaries Jimi Hendrix, Janis Joplin, Brian Jones and Jim Morrison were all 27 when they died

Now here's a novel programme idea, also in the public service arena, from Downtown Radio in Northern Ireland, Its Saturday morning show has a feature called 'Fire Watch', which looks at a Northern Ireland fire and how it could have been prevented.

I see Jazz FM and the Brixton Academy are joining forces to create jazz scenes of the past and present, in a monthly club night. They promise us New Orleans. with its Creole cafes and nickelodeons for the first outing, and later in the summer, Chicago, complete with its 'gangster and bootlegging image'. What about the FBI raids then?

Congratulations to Finland's Radio City, now five years old. Where's the champagne, Christian Moustgaard and Juha Tynkkvnen?

And so, to the other anniversaries for this week. Happy birthday Grace Jones, who will be 38 on May 19. Pete Townsend is 45 and Cher is 44 on May 20, Morrissey is 31 on May 22, and Bob Dylan turns 49 on May 24. And it was on May 21, 1979 that Elton John became the first Western solo artist to perform in the Soviet Union, ending the show with the Beatles' Back In The USSR.

It seems the Eurocrats' plans to alert Europe's youth to the joys of 1992 have fallen flat. Despite adopting the Kinks' single Down All The Days (Till 1992) as an unofficial anthem, and handing the record out to visitors at the EC HO in Brussels, the song has failed to make any impact. It is obviously not time for a Kinks revival. Never mind, the Jimi Hendrix revival is hotting up instead. That guitar of his I told you about last week was sold for £ 180,000, three times the estimate!

Thank you very much, some press office somewhere, the one that has just sent me a charming photo of a group of people; five men, four with long hair (one wearing a Clockwork Orange Tshirt) and two girls. That's really all I can tell you about them, as there was nothing else in the envelope. Still, it makes a change from white label 12' singles. My Italian friends tell me allegations, (in a British newspaper), that a recent David Bowie date in Rome was cancelled because of death threats, are completely untrue. In fact it was scrapped because ticket sales were slow due to European cup football on the TV ... bodes well for this summer's tour season, given Italy is staging the World Cup!

You know it seems these days most rock stars are not against becoming temporary advertising hoardings, especially while on tour. But I'm glad to say Billy Joel is following in Neil Young's footsteps and holding out. Despite having most of his money tied up in a court battle, Joel has refused a lucrative offer from Segram's Golden Wine Coolers. He's also refused to allow any of his songs to be used in commercials.

· Mind you, it almost seems that every other concert, or record release, is for charity these days. Still, UK reggae band Misty In Roots are doing it differently. After their European tour the band goes to Zimbabwe and Zambia to raise money for two local children's charities

Which speaker, lined up for this year's IM&MC conference, will be saying DJs talk too much, and they are particularly chatty in Italy and Spain? I'll give you a clue on that one. It isn't me!

I hate to say it, but it's that time of the year again. Yes, the summer hit single season is almost with us. So what little gem have the record companies got in store for us? Predictions, on a postcard please ....

MD Jon Morten Melhus: "Since going commercial in July 1988, Radio 1 has attempted both to entertain and inform. It's fast and funny music radio. backed up with half-hourly news reports from our own journalists. We are seeking to syndicate our news service across Norway in competition to Radio Nettverk?'

Our own ratings survey, by MMI, shows us to have an average daily audience in Oslo of 25%, around three times as much as our nearest commercial competitor Radio Limelight. And, in our 15-40 target group, we pull twice as many listeners daily as the public broadcaster NRK 1" "On the advertising front, in 1989 we accrued around Nkr 8.3 million, which accounts for around 50% of the total radio spend in Oslo and 25% of the nais Norway's leading commercial. tional total. 1990 looks to be even of Oslo. We have installed our better. I predict an improvement in our figures of between 50% and 100%. After a hesitant start advertisers are now becoming more attuned to using radio advertising here. We have a good roster of national advertisers including Coca-Cola, Toyota, Shell, Filmnet and Air Europe. The sales house Falgsaudelingen have an exclusive contract with us." "The music content relies heavily on the personal choice of our DJs though we have recently implemented a loose playlist system. The station's six hosts compile A, B and C lists each Monday, around 40 records in total, with reference to chart action in Europe and the US. On average, around 50% of each hour features A, B or C-listed records, 25% of each hour A-list records. The rest is made up of golden oldies, album tracks and new releases?'

"Last winter we set up a regular Radio 1 dance club in the centre own studio and broadcast from there regularly?

"Similarly we have set up a studio in the Oslo City shopping centre and arranged various events and concerts which have pulled large crowds. On top of this, we're all in favour of oneoff stunts and regularly send our hosts out into the streets to give away T-shirts, concert tickets and cassettes. Last October we had Radio I condoms made and sold them on the street for AIDS

A Church Service With A Difference

by David Stark

When the Eurythmics needed some rehearsal space in the early 80s, they rented part of an old church hall in north London's Crouch End. Dave Stewart installed some recording equipment and the band eventually took over the whole building for use as its own private studio.

part from the Eurythmics records, Stewart later became heavily involved in production work for friends who used the studio, including Bob Dylan, Daryl Hall and Feargal Sharkey. However, other committenents eventually made it necessary for Stewart and partner Annie Lennox to record outside the UK. They now have a second studio in Los

In September 1988, The Church underwent a major refit by Harris Grant Associates to make it a top class commercial facility. The two studios that now occupy the building enjoy a unique recording environment.

The Church's interior design has been modernised and adapted to the needs of a professional studio, but the character of the original architecture has been kept. Ornate stained glass windows, natural light and high ceilings provide an inspiring backdrop for all types of recording. In particular Studio B's Otari. Monitoring is by Neil Grant's Boxers, ATC, AR, Tannoy, Yamaha and Auratone.

There is a wide range of microphones available including Neumann, Shure, AKG, Sennheiser, Sanken and the Calrec Soundfield. This enables any combination of set up, particularly in Studio B where drummers such as Clem Burke (Eurythmics), Neil Conti (Prefab Sprout, David Bowie) and Tony Beard have achieved massive sounds. Both studios are tie-lined with audio, video and midl links and have their own private TV-video lounges and bathrooms.

Clients over the past year include Depeche Mode, Yello, Danny Wilson, Terence Trent D'Arby, Erasure, Guesch Patti, Shakespear's

Sister, Brian Ferry and Caron Wheeler (Soul II Soul). Producers in either to record, mix, or both, include Arthur Baker, Gareth Jones, Flood and Bob Sargeont.

The Church also has classical clients, such as the English National Opera, which was in with a 120 voice chorus. Another special project in the studio recently was an album by the Inspirational Gospel Choir, complete with a backing band and live audience. The recording necessitated the use of both control rooms and three engineers. "It was amazing to hear these incredible singers and musicians," says Baker. "It was the perfect setting, but then of course, this is The Church."

massive size and ambience has become a favourite setting for live sessions, with room for an orchestra, plus a choir on the balcony.

Studio manager Worth Baker: "Many clients who came here just to start a project decided to stay on for the whole duration. Customers appreciate the atmosphere, plus the fact that our staff are very young and everyone involved is enthusiastic about their work. Although we don't provide in-hough work of the order order of the order o

it has gone on to join the mainstream and now dominates the charts. Gary Smith looks at how the job of a radio programmer has been affected by house, hip-hop, and garage soul and asks the music producers how they have adapted their approach to get more airtime?

ouse music can cause real problems for programmers, because it is often too repetitive for radio and the number of records getting to the top of the charts without much airplay (like Orbital's Chime) is on the increase. BCM Records MD Brian Carter is well aware of the difficulties but at the same time sees a bright future for these uneasy bedfellows, based on the way dance music is now heading.

an underground

"We always service radio stations with an edited version," says Carter. "Every time we license a record and the single version is longer than 3.20 we will edit it, probably by taking out some of the intro. We only send CDs to stations and we always put the edit as the first track even if it means swapping things around from the original.

"Its only when you place dance music between two rock & roll numbers that it starts to sound monotonous."

Pontus Enhorning

"However, in the future I think songs and melodies will be on the way back. That alone will make it more acceptable to programmers, but there still remains the problem of the sheer volume of product fighting for airplay. It's incredible just how many records these people have to deal with each day, DJs estimate around 400 on average, so we are very selective about what we send them and we put a sticker on the box stating clearly that it is from BCM." In any form of music there is a bewildering choice but the most than being considered geniuses. Boris Loehe, head of numbers that it starts to sound monotonous.

"I played a lot of radio edits but I also played four minutes of throwaway nature of much of the early 70s disco. Unlike today's movement, that was a corporate run thing. I believe that in 10 years time the major labels are going to have rosters that look like Motown's used to in the 60s."

Blackhurst also has strong views about radio: "We don't cater for radio. If we like a record we will release it and that's that. If you start trying to cater to other people's ideas about what's right you've lost it. We're specialists and proud of it but at the same time we don't want to be ghettoised."

"Their attitude is based on the

This attitude is echoed by Swemix MD Rene Hedemyr: "We do it for the clubs first and foremost, then we do a radio mix and hope that it gets some airplay. That means changing the mix to accentuate the melody and bring down the rhythm track. Then we listen back to it through an old radio speaker on low volume."

media are still run by people who | motion team, which is very well think of dance music as somehow organised, gets behind the release"

> Blackhurst also believes firmly in club pre-promotion and places particular emphasis on the need for careful targetting: "We have a huge network of contacts in the clubs to whom we service our releases, but there are only 30 to 40 important ones who are really committed. There are good ones among the others but they aren't hardcore fanatics and tend only to last a year or so."

Most record company executives agree private stations are more likely to playlist dance music. "It's true that getting airplay is much easier for a rock song but, in private stations, at least 30% of DJs also work in clubs, which helps. They also have a younger audience and they are our target," says Loehe.

Although people generally look to the UK for inspiration, some of the most important new sounds in dance music over the last two years have come from Italy, Leading the way were Black Box and the Disco Magic operation, but other labels are now emerging.

Producer Pippo Landro's Milan based label New Music is responsible for several big selling artists including Chicco Secci Project, E.V.O.E. and Arthur Miles. In Modena Toni Verona's label Ala Bianca and its subsidiary Flea Records have successfully licensed records to countries such as Germany, France, Holland and Japan. Their latest products include Miker G's Show'm The Bass, 2 Static's Boy I'll House Ya and University Of Love's Souvenir.

In Rome, Alvaro Ugolini's label, Energy, is at the forefront of the new, more melodic trend with In-Side, Blue Tattoo and, one of its biggest hits so far, Everyday by The Jam Machine, a UK success on the RCA distributed label de/Construction.

Dance music has developed a set of rules and values all its own, which have now been adopted by the contemporary music industry as marketing tools. When Bruce Springsteen asks Arthur Baker to remix Dancing In The Dark there is no denying that the dance ethic has spread.

So where does dance music go from here? Carter: "The general trend over the next year will be towards real music with an R&B feel and strings. Hip-hop is changing too. We have already seen the inclusion of real hooklines in rap and that will go further to the point where there is more song than rap."

Blackhurst predicts there will be a move back to melody: "Just the right groove isn't enough any more. I also think we're going to see more music with an amateurish feel?"

Although he remains optimistic Boris Loehe admits to being somewhat confused: "The future isn't clear, things are very chaotic at the moment. However, I think we will see a slowing down of the beats to around 90-100 bpm and more soul/house stuff like Mantronix, Tongue 'n' Cheek and of course Soul II Soul?'

A Brief Spin Around The European Dance Floor

Your Hosts: Gary Smith & Jerry Goossens

Mutoid Waste (Girls Only) Inner use of one of Kevin Saunders best riffs from Good Life, called it Mutoid Waste, and got away with Bleep it. A good record with a great vocal performance by this Swedish "nouveau hippy", this is fresh, melodic and cheerful.

Florence Derby

You're In My Mind (Injection) A Jacksons-like record with a distinctive 70s feel. You're In My Mind has more emphasis on the song rather than the groove, which is a pleasant, melodic and slow tune. A dance ballad, indicative of things to come.

Raul Orellana

Toros (Spitfire Music) The man who brought the world Real Wild House returns with a straightforward flamenco house song.

Where others tend to sample bits and pieces of flamenco music. Orellana takes the whole song and dresses it up with a groove. It is the Gipsy Kings in clubland.

A Byte Of AMC (SSR) Like most of the SSR releases, this record is meant to be on the frontline of dance music, but with its monotonous, nervous acid riffs, Kiss AMC samples and Islamic singing, it sounds a bit dated. However, Bleep still stand tall in the ranks of hardcore dance.

808 State

The Extended Pleasure Of Dance (ZTT) 808 State are responsible for an extremely exciting style of instrumental house. The Extended Pleasure Of Dance sounds like Emerson, Lake & Palmer gone mad, crossed with a 70s police movie soundtrack. These men from Manchester are in the frontline of dance but still sound refreshingly accessible.

I'm Leaving (Energy) New York born Joy is the daughter of the late Jimmy Garrison, bass player for the John Coltrane Quartet. In The Realm Of The Senses Her own music, however, is straightforward 70s disco that draws on just about everything Chic ever produced, including the

I Can't Stand It (BCM) Twenty 4 Seven were formed when Dutch singer Nancy met up with rapper, dancer and choreographer Tony Harrisson, alias Captain Hollywood. I Can't Stand It will never be regarded as innovative: the Martin Luther King "Robbed Of Our Nation..." speech, the Kraftwerk-like synth, the ooh's and yeah's have all been heard before, but seldom in such a strong pop context. The chorus, sung by Dutch Wendy James look-alike Nancy, is extremely not always be popular with mainstream format radio but it does possess something unique in the world of pop; the clubs. These testing grounds for product provide instant access to the consumer. Several European broadcasters work closely with the dancefloor dens and here Jerry Goossens talks to programmers who have one foot in

"It is a useful testing ground for new material", says Bjorn Faarlund, music programme director at Radio 1 in Oslo, "The kids are very quick to pick up on fresh records, and even though a DJ might think he can predict a hit, it is only when he sees people dancing to a track in large numbers that an instinct can he proved right?"

Modern dance music may | clubs: the aptly named Radio 1 | Club and Tiffany's. The latter aims at a slightly older audience but the Radio 1 Club is frequented by Oslo's young dance crowd. The station's DJs take turns in playing the clubs once a week. "It does not really affect our playlist," says Faarlund, "but we do get influenced by it ourselves. We don't otherwise get exposed to this kind of music very much".

Although several DJs say dance is usually broken through the dancefloor, not all club hits are chart hits. Ex-club DJ Robin Albers of Dutch broadcaster Avro Radio: "There's a crucial difference between dancefloor hits and radio hits. On radio you cannot feel the club atmosphere, which is very important.

"For instance, a really heavy, pounding, psychedelic house track can do very well in the clubs, while on radio you hear nothing but the beat going on and on. For radio a record needs to be a bit Radio I works closely with two more poppy, so the listeners can a club bearing its name. Three hour.

singalong or whistle to it."

Co-operating with a club does not only keep a DJ on top of what's happening on the floor, but it can also help the station reach its promotional and financial goals. The special nights become linked with the station's name and many of the clubs regularly buy advertising space.

However, this is not always ideal or mutually beneficial, as Patricia Boser of Radio 24 in Zurich points out: "We used to be" connected with a huge discotheque just outside of Zurich, with a capacity of 2.000 people. But, in the end, the owner wanted too much free publicity, so we had to back out and link up with another club. This one was a lot smaller, but in the middle of Zurich. After a while we decided not to be associated with them either because the crowds being attracted to the venue were too nights a week the station broadcasts live from the venue. Ciro Cacciona, promotional officer at Kiss Kiss: "The club is owned by the owner of the network, so that is how we got linked up. Over the years Kiss Kiss Club has grown from one of the smallest dicotheques in Naples to the biggest. It is now capable of accomodating 1.500 people."

Although he affirms it is a very good way of testing new material, Cacciona adds this is not the main reason to be involved with the club: "It is more like a closed promotional circle; the club promotes the station and vice versa."

When there are no clubs available for co-operation, there are alternative ways for radio stations to keep in touch with the ever growing dance scene. For it's Saturday night dance show, Ludwigshafen-based radio station RPR sends reporters to parties thrown by listeners, who can then determine the playlist for one

AMSTERDAM, HOLLAND - MAY 27-30, 1990

AMSTERDAM IS THE PLACE TO BE!

IM&MC - THE major annual meeting of the international music, media and marketing industries, takes place in Amsterdam's historic stock exchange the Beurs van Berlage. With three major conference rooms, two concert halls, a professional marketplace, and the elegant 'Grand Cafe', the Beurs hosts all IM&MC activities except for the evening showcases and the largest receptions. It is located at Damrak 279, within walking distance of Amsterdam's Central Station, and direct connection to Schiphol Airport.

The Beurs van Berlage - IM&MC Conference Centre

The Music-In-Media Marketplace in the centre of the Beurs is the central meeting point for IM&MC delegates. Here, exhibitors present their services, newest products, artists and media technology. It is also a platform for demonstrations and programme production, featuring live radio broadcast facilities and soundproof rooms for one-interviews with the many artists on hand. The revolutionary new airplay monitoring system B.D.S. will be introduced to Europe here at the IM&MC.

THEY CAME, THEY SAW, THEY SAID!

Comments from previous IM&MC delegates

Greg Roselli - Granada Television (U.K.): "The people attending were very serious about the music business. Unlike MIP, this was aimed to a targetted music demographic. A good forum to duscuss the future with friends and colleagues."

Lars Kjaer - Programme Director 'The Voice' (Denmark): "I must admit I was very impressed with the arrangement. The number of business people attending the event means that 'new faces', like ours, got a lot of ideas for radio work. I taped some of the panels for more intensive use later on.

Stuart Watson - MCA Records Int. (U.K.): "The system that was set up enabled us to schedule some valuable interviews. It is my intention to bring in a couple of established acts next year specifically for press interviews."

Ed Salamon - United Stations Programming Network (USA):

"The quality of the panels, coupled with the fact that they were in English, made this the most rewarding event of this type that I have ever attended. I was gratified at the enthusiasm of the international broadcasters who were there."

Jimmy Nishioka - SAM Corporation Ltd (Japan): "We had a very significant visit to IM&MC, and got many business contacts with radio stations, productions and record companies."

Bjorn Faarlund - Radio 1 (Denmark): "The artist interviews I got were the most important, but I also made a lot of contacts and have already had the first concrete results - sending a live programme from our studio via satellite to Australia (Rocksat). I'd spoken with MCM at IM&MC the week before.

Jim Halsey - Jim Halsey Co. Inc (USA): "I was impressed with the caliber of music industry executives in attendance, and the support from the labels. I personally received a lot from my experience there."

Achim Werner - Neue Medien (Germany): "It's one of the only industry gatherings that really does bring the music and media markets together."

Mark Josephson - New Music Seminar (USA): "The conference gives the opportunity to hear opinions of professionals from other countries, and it enables us Americans to understand better what exactly is happening in Europe. There is still a lot of work to do in this business and the IM&MC gives the opportunity for better understanding and communication."
