SKYROCkETS WILL BE RETAINED

PALLADIUM CONTRACT HAS BEEN RENEWED

Woolf Phillips is returning to be conductor under special contract

Followings the sensational rumours concerning the Skyrocket's announced exclusively in Musical Express last week, this newspaper is now able to present the full details through which these rumours arose.

While there was discussion regarding Woolf Phillips, who recently left the Skyrockets of which he had been a director for some considerable time, focusing on orchestras for the London Palladium, it is now learned that London's Associate Pikes has just signed a further contract with Val Ferman.

THE VOICE

SOMEWHERE in the vast expanse of the world, it seems to me, there is a city where the voice is all that matters. It is a city of the voice, where the spoken word is the lifeblood of the community. It is a city where the voice is not just a means of communication, but a way of life. It is a city where the voice is a art form, a way of expressing oneself, a way of connecting with others. It is a city where the voice is a way of telling stories, of sharing experiences, of creating a sense of community. It is a city where the voice is a way of celebrating, of expressing joy, of creating a sense of belonging. It is a city where the voice is a way of learning, of understanding, of growing.
