"We've got too many discs on the go, and the Rolling Stones for company," he said, extracting a bundle of dollar balls from the other sock. "But we sure have had one helluva good time here," he added, hanging his bobcat waistocat over an electric light hulb.

That was the scene shortly before Sonny and Cher, the nicest boosone I've ever met, left for their Hollywood home. The positioning proved unfounded, for together they hit the top of the NMI Chart this week with "I Got You Babe."

Those were the days when Sonny used to accompany for record producers Phil Spector and Jack Nitzche,

They were both genuinely upset when they had to miss the second half of the show because it had been announced from the stage during the first half that they were in the stalls. Across the studio floor Sonny spotted a technician reading an even-ing paper with a screaming headline: "Race Riots In Los Angeles;" He practically stood on his head to read it!

As soon as that happened there was a fan rush and they had to go back-stage fast!

"That's terrible," he said. "My home and my folks are in the middle of that. These race disturbances are the saddest thing."

Cher takes the solo verses, and they combine in the choruses of this bouncy jog-trotter.

Jog-trotter. Written by Sonny, it's extremely insistent, and the backing features wailing harmonica and an intriguing mandolin effect.

"Walkin' The Quetral" is still labelled as being by Sonny and Cher, but in fact it's an instrumental of no great significance.

Dickens on Stones tour

New singer Charles Dickens, who recently appeared on several of the Byrds' British concers, has been added to the Rolling Stones autumn tour, which opens at Firsbury Park Astoria on September 24. As reported last week, Unit Four Plus Two are also booked for the package. The new Cliff Richard picture will again be in colour, with extensive location scenes in Paris. The musical content will be stronger than originally planned—due to the Shadows' participation—but probably not so extensive as in his three previous films.

BEATLES U.K.

THE Beatles may undertake a British tour this year after all! Despite Brian Epstein's statement to the contrary, reported in the NME three weeks ago, it now seems likely that they will undertake selected dates towards the end of first British tour since October last year.

In America, the Beatles are being sued for over half a million dollars by promoters who claims that the Liverpool group agreed to stage a concert for them next Tuesday 21,03. this year, or early in 1966.

This was revealed by Ringo Starr to Chris Hutchins in America. He explained that the Beatles wished to maintain faith with their British fans, and said that they were hoping to arrange a short tour between recording sessions in the late autumn.

If this proves impracticable, they will play dates early in 1966, before starting work on their next lim. This will be the Beatles first British tour since October last year.

HERMAN'S Hermits' first-ever tour of Australasia is now set. They will play four concerts in New Zealand and 12 in Australia between January 21 and February 7 next year. They have also been offered a nine-day tour of Japan, comprising 11 concerts. Their agent, Danny Betesh, told the NME; "I expect the boys to undertake this on their way home from Australia."

The group returned last weekend from America, where they have been from America, where they have been from America, where they have been from Hermit of the film "Where The Boys Med The Girk," Their recording manager, Miskie Most, accompanied them to Hollywood to supervise soundtrask recordings.

TORN, tattered, but triumphant—the Walker Brothers have got the big hit they needed with their second record, "Make It Easy On Yourself." Hysterical receptions, usually reserved for established favourites like the Stones and the Beatles, greet their personal appearances in ball-rooms and clubs throughout the country.

Outside their publicist's office in Charing Cross Road a posse of teenage "assassins" had gathered to give them yet another "ripping" reception when I arrived to see them.

"Bring me down Gars!" instructed one young lady with much shirt-learing potential stamped all over her. "I want Scott" shouted a carbon copy of Cathy McGowan, brandshing a pair of nail scissors. "Any one of them will do!" shricked the remainder as I slipped to the lift.

Herman had just returned from a hectic three-week tout of the U.S. "It was great!" he said, enthusiastically. "At the Pasadena Rose Bowl we played to a crowd of 34,000! Only thing I hated was the travelling. I don't really like flying, but it's the only way to go in the States."

How was his meeting with Elvis arranged? "I told Sam Katzman, who was producing the film we were in, that I would love to meet El. It turned out that he was also producing Elvis' picture. So he arranged that we should fly to Hawaii, where the lilm was on location.

"I had always wanted to meet Elvis, and I was absolutely thrilled at the prospect. But when we eventually met, I didn't feel at all excited. I expected him to be a bit moody, but he was a really nice guy.

Tuneful 'Hotel

Tille new musical, "Passion Flower Hotel," which opened at London's Prince Of Wale heart on Tuesday night, includes a host of new songs which should become most popular very soon (writes Norrie Drummond). Most outstanding numbers in the show are the bouncy "Passion Flower Hotel," are slow balled "Hotel Much Hotel," below balled "Hotel, and the houng passion Flower Hotel, "Something Diffurther, and the houng with the houng with the houng with a doubt the his number from the show will be the toe-tapping What A Question," which stuck in my mind long after the final curtain. The musical score is by John Barry. The musical score is by John Barry. The pures File," and Jyries are by Trevor Peacock, who wrote Herman's Menican chart-topper "Ms. Brown You've Got A Lovely Daughter."

It's an amusing show, with Karen Farnald, Francesca Annis, Jeremy Clyde (of Chad and Jeremy), and Nicky Henson doing well.

BY ROSETTI it's the best value ever! Superbly finished, mellow magnificent, it's a real guitar for young talent, properly made to classic dimensions.
