RYANS PROVE IT'S TALENT—NOT MONEY THAT MAKES HITS

THERE is more to the song holding the No. 12 slot this week's NME Chart than the fact that it is a hit record. Few new artists have enjoyed the lavish send-off that was Paul and Barry Ryan's happy lot—only for it all to founder and sink in tragic and finally in a mental conflict that saw the end of what looked initially such a gilt-edged investment.

"Must happen"

"Must happen" was the song's title and for its author, Don Arden, it was a matter of just as much importance to his career as it now is to the Ryan brothers. Writer and producer, Arden is a man whose career is as controversial as it is prolific. He has written and produced more than 500 hits and was the architect of the pop sound of the 1960s. But now, with "Must happen", he found himself on the receiving end of a record that might have been his biggest triumph.

Shown to Paul

"My mother's killer wrote it" was part of the picture. Paul Ryan had seen "Must happen" performed in a London club and then, with a bit of help from the song's writer, he was introduced to Paul McCartney. McCartney was blown away by the song and invited the Ryan brothers to his home in England. From there, things moved quickly and the song was recorded and released.

Locomotive's coloured sound

"Locomotive's Coloured Sound" was the song's title and for its author, Richard Green, it was a matter of just as much importance to his career as it now is to the Ryan brothers. Writer and producer, Green is a man whose career is as controversial as it is prolific. He has written and produced more than 500 hits and was the architect of the pop sound of the 1960s. But now, with "Locomotive's Coloured Sound", he found himself on the receiving end of a record that might have been his biggest triumph.

TREMS MAKE POP HISTORY

Things have changed since the days of scrawling set lists by young tour buses. Along with the Marquess, they were the first British pop group sent to tour in Israel, and their concert in Jerusalem's Opera House was the largest and most successful pop show ever to have been held there.

And get shock when BOY fans kiss them!

I'VE NEVER BEEN 100 PER CENT A BEE GEE: VINCE

VINCE McELHONEY is the Bee Gee who believes an interview should be allowed to flow. He's the one who gives other people a chance to talk. It's only fair that he should get his say, once in a while. His single, 'My Love, My Valentine,' is a hit and his solo career is just beginning. Today, he's all smiles.

AN EXTRA LARGE HELPING OF LOVE!

That's on the LP menu from RCA this month. What single-mindedness our great songwriter and artists seem to have!

From the new rock and roll complex, 'EREB NEBO, for instance. His latest album is "THE APACHE SONGS OF LOVE" (SMP 4070/4071). That beautiful blackbird voice is backed by some of the most exciting arrangements on disc at the moment, in such numbers as 'By the time I get to Phoenix'. Well worth a long, long listen.

Another remarkable new collection is HARRY BELAFONTE. His contribution to the RCA label is "HELLO MISTER SUNSHINE" (SMP 4073/4074). That beautiful blackbird voice is backed by some of the most exciting arrangements on disc at the moment, in such numbers as 'By the time I get to Phoenix'. Well worth a long, long listen.

Another remarkable collection is ARTHUR'S "UNFORGETTABLE" (SMP 4075/4076). That's an individual triumph. A band is assembled of three million-dollar-invoice. Taking a slice out from the jazz-rules, there are two exceptional voices and three new voices in the line-up. "THE STANDARDS OF THE TIME" (SMP 4077) is an album of CHARLES PRIDE's singing songs he's really made his own. "COUNTRY HALL OF FAME" (SMP 4078) is BARNETT MCKINLEY's tribute to the family-operated Country Music Hall of Fame. The band sings this fine music in that manner. "THE BLUES" (SMP 4079) is a collection of the best in black music. Great value. And on the same sub-

TOP SINGLES REVIEWED BY DEREK JOHNSON

FOUR TOPS TAKE TAMLA CROWN

Four Tops: "I'm In A Different World" (Tamla Motown). This year, the Four Tops have taken over from the Supremes as Tamla's most successful attraction. And it's something of a surprise, the Tops since have never failed to make a hit record across the board... In this case, their next release is expected to win them strong buyers among Negro youth. (4)

---

Vehement Lulu

Lulu: "If I Were A Tiger" (Columbia). A tip of the cap to the original artist, Al Jolson, this new release from Lulu is a fine one. It features a string section and some fine vocal work.

EASY GOING KING OTIS

Otis Redding: "Champagne And Wine" (Atlantic). It is known that Otis Redding's popularity should have doubled since his tragic death. Or perhaps it should be the other way around? In any case, this is a fine release from the great soul singer.

FACES, AMEN TOP PACKAGE
Dave Davies, Spooky, Grapefruit, Rosko?

The Small Faces and Fleetwood Mac are top of the pops digitally speaking, but in most of the country, they only manage to crack the Top Ten. No one has told them yet that the British charts are a different proposition. However, the two groups have already reached No. 1, and if the British are not interested in our singles, it is unlikely that they are going to be interested in our singles.

At least three other big names will complete the top six: the Animals, for whoseOwn Arthur Brown is currently operating; the Dave Clark Five, and the Rolling Stones. No. 2 is in London, returning to the capital with a bang! For the first time on December 1, it will be the first time in London that a British band has ever played in London.

BEATLES £16,000 TV ALBUM COMMERCIAL: ALL STATIONS

Paul McCartney or Ringo Starr will face the cameras for an unprecedented Beatles TV commercial — a rare and unprecedented moment in the history of Liverpool, where the Beatles have never been seen on television. The commercial is being filmed for the top advertising spot of the week. The commercial is expected to be broadcast in Liverpool, and to be premiered in the Beatles' forthcoming double album, now titled simply "The Beatles." Scheduled time is 9:30 p.m. A total estimated cost of the project is expected to be around £16,000, assessed at full-screen rates.
