Edwin T. Vane, VP for daytime programming, ABC-TV, has been named to new post of VP, nighttime program production. He will supervise quality of production and script of both film and tape programs currently on network. Before joining ABC in 1964, Mr. Vane was manager of daytime programming, NBC-TV. Marshall Karp, VP and director of sales, eastern division, ABC-TV, will succeed Mr. Vane as VP-daytime programming. Mr. Karp has been with ABC since 1960 as assistant daytime sales manager, account executive, and eastern division sales manager before being elected sales VP in 1965.

Grant Tinker, VP for network programs for Universal Television, N. Hollywood, Calif., named VP in charge of programs for 20th Century-Fox Television, Los Angeles. Mr. Tinker's new contract, described as "long-term," is effective immediately, with responsibilities for program development, sales and "creatively guiding" studio's current TV series. Mr. Tinker, formerly programing VP for NBC-TV and TV programing VP for Benton & Bowles, New York, will report to William Self, president of 20th Century-Fox TV.

John T. Reynolds, senior VP of Paramount Pictures Television, resigns effective April 1. Mr. Reynolds's decision is said to be based on his desire to maintain his home in California and not spend as much time in New York as company requested. His future plans are undetermined; no successor at Paramount has been selected. Mr. Reynolds joined Paramount in December, 1966 after 11-month stint as president of CBS-TV in New York.

Joseph E. Baudino, Washington VP for Westinghouse Broadcasting Co., elected senior VP and Herbert B. Cahan, area VP of WJZ-TV Baltimore, elected area VP for Washington and Baltimore ("Closed Circuit," March 24). Mr. Baudino, with Westinghouse since 1927, will continue to serve in Washington. Mr. Cahan has been active in broadcasting for 30 years and with Westinghouse since 1956.

For other personnel changes of the week see "Fates & Fortunes."

case, clearly calling for remedial action." It said programs inciting to riot would fit that category.

But programs carried by WRAI do not, commission added.

Commission's letter was in response to complaint by Dan Sanders, director of public relations for United Federation of Teachers.

Conglomerate bill

Anticonglomerate broadcasting bill (H.R. 9583), dropped into hopper earlier in week without fanfare, was explained Friday (March 28) by author, House Commerce Committee Chairman Harley O. Staggers (D-W. Va.), as one of several that could solve problems of undesirable conglomerate activity in industries under committee's jurisdiction.

Proposed legislation would require FCC to hold hearings on all broadcast license renewals and transfers, where licensee receives 10% or more of income from, or owns 5% or more of stock in, non-broadcast enterprise.

Fees

John T. Reynolds, senior VP of Paramount Pictures Television, resigns effective April 1. Mr. Reynolds's decision is said to be based on his desire to maintain his home in California and not spend as much time in New York as company requested. His future plans are undetermined; no successor at Paramount has been selected. Mr. Reynolds joined Paramount in December, 1966 after 11-month stint as president of CBS-TV in New York.

Joseph E. Baudino, Washington VP for Westinghouse Broadcasting Co., elected senior VP and Herbert B. Cahan, area VP of WJZ-TV Baltimore, elected area VP for Washington and Baltimore ("Closed Circuit," March 24). Mr. Baudino, with Westinghouse since 1927, will continue to serve in Washington. Mr. Cahan has been active in broadcasting for 30 years and with Westinghouse since 1956.

For other personnel changes of the week see "Fates & Fortunes."

case, clearly calling for remedial action." It said programs inciting to riot would fit that category.

But programs carried by WRAI do not, commission added.

Commission's letter was in response to complaint by Dan Sanders, director of public relations for United Federation of Teachers.

Conglomerate bill

Anticonglomerate broadcasting bill (H.R. 9583), dropped into hopper earlier in week without fanfare, was explained Friday (March 28) by author, House Commerce Committee Chairman Harley O. Staggers (D-W. Va.), as one of several that could solve problems of undesirable conglomerate activity in industries under committee's jurisdiction.

Proposed legislation would require FCC to hold hearings on all broadcast license renewals and transfers, where licensee receives 10% or more of income from, or owns 5% or more of stock in, non-broadcast enterprise.

Fees

John T. Reynolds, senior VP of Paramount Pictures Television, resigns effective April 1. Mr. Reynolds's decision is said to be based on his desire to maintain his home in California and not spend as much time in New York as company requested. His future plans are undetermined; no successor at Paramount has been selected. Mr. Reynolds joined Paramount in December, 1966 after 11-month stint as president of CBS-TV in New York.

Joseph E. Baudino, Washington VP for Westinghouse Broadcasting Co., elected senior VP and Herbert B. Cahan, area VP of WJZ-TV Baltimore, elected area VP for Washington and Baltimore ("Closed Circuit," March 24). Mr. Baudino, with Westinghouse since 1927, will continue to serve in Washington. Mr. Cahan has been active in broadcasting for 30 years and with Westinghouse since 1956.

For other personnel changes of the week see "Fates & Fortunes."

John T. Reynolds, senior VP of Paramount Pictures Television, resigns effective April 1. Mr. Reynolds's decision is said to be based on his desire to maintain his home in California and not spend as much time in New York as company requested. His future plans are undetermined; no successor at Paramount has been selected. Mr. Reynolds joined Paramount in December, 1966 after 11-month stint as president of CBS-TV in New York.

Joseph E. Baudino, Washington VP for Westinghouse Broadcasting Co., elected senior VP and Herbert B. Cahan, area VP of WJZ-TV Baltimore, elected area VP for Washington and Baltimore ("Closed Circuit," March 24). Mr. Baudino, with Westinghouse since 1927, will continue to serve in Washington. Mr. Cahan has been active in broadcasting for 30 years and with Westinghouse since 1956.

For other personnel changes of the week see "Fates & Fortunes."

Fees

John T. Reynolds, senior VP of Paramount Pictures Television, resigns effective April 1. Mr. Reynolds's decision is said to be based on his desire to maintain his home in California and not spend as much time in New York as company requested. His future plans are undetermined; no successor at Paramount has been selected. Mr. Reynolds joined Paramount in December, 1966 after 11-month stint as president of CBS-TV in New York.

Joseph E. Baudino, Washington VP for Westinghouse Broadcasting Co., elected senior VP and Herbert B. Cahan, area VP of WJZ-TV Baltimore, elected area VP for Washington and Baltimore ("Closed Circuit," March 24). Mr. Baudino, with Westinghouse since 1927, will continue to serve in Washington. Mr. Cahan has been active in broadcasting for 30 years and with Westinghouse since 1956.

For other personnel changes of the week see "Fates & Fortunes."

Fees

John T. Reynolds, senior VP of Paramount Pictures Television, resigns effective April 1. Mr. Reynolds's decision is said to be based on his desire to maintain his home in California and not spend as much time in New York as company requested. His future plans are undetermined; no successor at Paramount has been selected. Mr. Reynolds joined Paramount in December, 1966 after 11-month stint as president of CBS-TV in New York.

Joseph E. Baudino, Washington VP for Westinghouse Broadcasting Co., elected senior VP and Herbert B. Cahan, area VP of WJZ-TV Baltimore, elected area VP for Washington and Baltimore ("Closed Circuit," March 24). Mr. Baudino, with Westinghouse since 1927, will continue to serve in Washington. Mr. Cahan has been active in broadcasting for 30 years and with Westinghouse since 1956.