Jazz in the White House

WASHINGTON—Paul Winter, the rock leader who just came back from South America after a tour in Latin America for the State Department, performed a concert at真的很棒，并且在白宫做了一次很成功的演出。The concert, billed as "The Joven Jazz in the White House," was a part of the ongoing musical and cultural exchange between the United States and Latin America. The audience was captivated by Winter's innovative blend of jazz and world music, which included traditional Latin rhythms and contemporary improvisation. The performance highlighted the power of music to bring people together and promote understanding between cultures.

PHILADELPHIA — The legal wing of the National Association of Record Merchandisers, Inc. has prepared a special indemnification agreement form designed to protect record companies from liability arising from the infringement of copyright. The form was prepared by the association's counsel, Earl M. Forrest, of Philadelphia.

Several disks were billed as a result of this recent infringement action against a New York City publisher. The form was released by the association, which represents record manufacturers and disc jockeys who use recorded music extensively.

FRANNY JENSON SCORES A COUP

CINCINNATI—King Records has released a new, young Buck Owens single, "Don't You Believe Me, Mr. Christmas." Lass is Frances Ersson of Milwaukee, whose record label is the Buck Owens. Franny Jenson, Lass was selected by Buck Owens for the backing group, the Hal Neely after listening to 200 tapes and records of aspiring young singers. Miss Jenson's demo was sent to King by another King artist, Bob Wills. King Records, which will be released by the end of the year, features a lush orchestration and a catchy rhythm that is sure to appeal to country music fans.

INDEX TO CONTENTS

GENERAL

National Exchange 31
National News 30
Clubs & Schools 33
Industry Briefs 6
Records 19
College News 10
Special Sections 16
Radio-Live Music 16
Radio Features 14

MARK-CLARK RATES

From Belmont College, Nashville, and attended Vanderbilt University School of Law, leaves his post at the Nashville Banner to accept the BMW position. Earlier, during his college career, he had been with The Nashville Tennessean.

CMA BOARD PUSHES PLAN TO SELL COUNTRY MUSIC TO MADISON AVENUE

NASHVILLE — Plans for a $2 million Country Music Association project, and a sustained campaign to sell country music as worthy of prime advertising revenue in urban areas, were among the key topics taken up here at the first meeting of the new Country Music Association board of directors. The board met at the Andrew Jackson Hotel, Sunday (1), following the close of NCM's 13th annual country disk jockey convention. The work of membership and finance committees was considered along with plans for CMA and a campaign for action in the political

FIRST OFFICE OPENINGS

BMV Offiences In "Music City, U.S.A."

NASHVILLE — A new branch office of the bi-weekly Billboard Music Week in the Wholesale District, 1512 West End Avenue, close to the music heart of the city, Mark Clark, national manager, has come into being. The office is equipped with all the facilities needed to handle the growing needs of the music industry. The office is the result of the efforts of the national recording and publishing business, which has been concentrating on the music industry for the past 20 years. The office is staffed by a knowledgeable and experienced staff, including experts in radio, television, and record promotion. The office has the resources and expertise to provide the best possible service to the music industry.

BMW'S DECISION TO EXECUTE THE "S" SERIES PROJECT

From the BMW board, it was announced that the company has made the decision to proceed with the "S" series project. The project was initiated in response to customer demand for a high-performance BMW model that would offer exceptional handling, acceleration, and overall performance. BMW's engineers have been working on the project for several years, and the company is confident that the final product will meet the high standards set by the BMW brand. The "S" series will be launched in the near future, and BMW is excited to bring this innovative and highly anticipated model to market.