SINGLES SCOPED. The Billboard Hot 100 chart is a ranking of the top 100 songs in the United States, based on radio airplay, sales, and streaming. It is compiled by Billboard magazine and published weekly. The chart is based on data from Nielsen Broadcast Data Systems and BDS Media Measurement & Data, which track radio airplay across the country. Sales and streaming data is gathered from Digital Media Analysis (DMA) and Nielsen BDS. The chart is updated every week and is a key indicator of the popularity of songs at the time. The chart is compiled and distributed by Billboard, a magazine that covers the music industry.