

European Gold & Platinum Awards 1986

Despite the general decrease in sales of soundtracks in 1986, there were still a number of platinum awards that have still been given out. Especially in the UK the list of gold albums is long and there are even triple platinum albums as well as a double platinum single (Wings' 'Mull of Kintyre'). Please note that the following lists are not complete as some countries only release the lists in the new year. The lists give an indication of pop/rock/mainstream success, but do not include classical or children's records. Due to space limitations the BPI awards for singles and albums are not included.

In most countries international production dominates the awards presentations. In Germany the ratio is 15 equal against 35 international, while the figure in Holland is 16 against 35. In the southern European countries these figures are more balanced with, e.g. Spain having 23 local awards compared to 16 international ones.
